THE GCW GETS AROUND

But A Sea Voyage Dims Its Print

Maj. Archie Stubbs, former GHS coach, and his family are on the island of Okinawa. Writing the GCW this week, Maj. Stubbs says he likes it fine there, but is starving for a "mess of bream."

His letter follows:

Mr. Whitaker:

"To further prove that the GCW Gets Around, I am enclosing two pictures to prove it. We received 2 papers at the same time, so there was a scrap among the five of us as to who would read first. We certainly enjoy the paper and I want you to keep it coming. If the subscription runs out just go to Papa Ray at the bank and tell him to renew for me. I try to keep an extra buck with him. I know you have plenty to write about, but if the time ever comes that you need something to fill in with, put more news about the school. Of course, other readers may not be as interested as I am, but it makes me feel good to read about the kids of the school and their doings."

Sorry I don't have a complete picture of the house we live in, but you can bet it's a nice one. Uncle Sam has built some nice homes here and conditions are such that people hate to leave. We now have four-lane highways, golf course, swimming pool, youth center, Sunday School, church, and in the process of building, two modern schools, one grammar and one high school. My kids really enjoy going to school here, most of the teachers are from California and the kids say they are not as strict as Mississippi teachers. In discipline but they really have the home work to do. Freddy, the oldest son has had his first experience of going to school with Negroes. He has a Negro girl in his class and as far as I can see, he has not objected or commented against it.

I guess if we have to have the same schools it's better to break the young ones in first and by the time they get grown there won't be too much resentment.

"I wish I was there to go fishing with you this Spring. I get so hungry for a good mess of bream, I can smell them."

"We hope to get home around January, 1954, so tell everyone hello and good luck to the GCW and Whitaker family."

Yours, Archie."

HOME AGENT NOTES

(By Bervil Elder)

With the spring flowers, new leaves on the trees and bright sunny days comes a desire to freshen up ourselves with a new spring bonnet, a bright airy dress, and the house with new starched cool curtains and fresh colorful slip covers.

All along with all this, we begin to turn up our noses, so to speak, at our wintertime diet. The early tender greens, lettuce, baby carrots, and spring onions seem the best eating we've had in a long, long time.

And another way to add zest and make springtime meals more tasteful and colorful is through the use of salads. They offer a delightful way to include a wide variety of fruits and vegetables in the diet every day.

Of all the salads, the tossed green salad is the most popular. You can make it of one or a combination of many greens - spinach, mustard, leaf and head lettuce, green and red cabbage, beet greens, chinese cabbage, celery tops and turnip greens.

Just before you toss any green salad, you may weave in bits of color by adding slices or wedges of apple, slivers of avocado, crispy bits of bacon, carrots, chunks or slices of celery, any kind of cheese crumbled, grated or sliced, peppers, potato chips or corn chips coarsely broken, thin strips of meat, chunks or slices of cucumber, chopped hard-boiled eggs, nuts, grapes, green or ripe olives, wedges of tomatoes, red radishes and many others.

Tossed Green Salad

Wash greens, after draining, break leaves (no rough centers) into fork-size pieces until you have about 2 quarts. Then dry well; wrap in towel; tuck in crisper to chill.

Cut tiny checkerboard pattern across top of garlic clove; then, right into salad bowl, cut off 2 or 3 thin alivers (this will give you lots of tiny garlic bits). Next add about 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. For sharper flavor, you may add a bit of dry mustard, too.

Now, with back of spoon, mash seasoning together (all that remains is a delicate garlic flavor). Into this, stir 1 tablespoon vinegar, then 1/4 cup salad oil, mixed well with fork.

Next remove those cool crisp greens from refrigerator, heap on top of dressing, but don't toss. Then set salad bowl on top of salad plates and put all away in the refrigerator.

At salad time, not before, remove salad bowl and plates from refrigerator. Whisk to table and toss greens lightly, or toss in kitchen. Every leaf should be coated, but not dripping with dressing. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Low Calorie Tomato Juice Dressing
1/2 cup tomato juice; 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard; 2 to 4 tablespoons salad oil; 1 teaspoon grated onion; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 1/4 teaspoon bottled meat sauce; 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Combine all ingredients. Beat well until blended. Makes 1 cup.

Fruit Salad Dressing

1 tablespoon orange juice; 1 tablespoon pineapple juice; 1 tablespoon maraschino cherry juice; 6 maraschino cherries, minced; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 1 cup cream, beaten. Fold juices and cherries into cream. Serve with fruit salads. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

Big New Rural Telephone Project Will Serve Wide Area Of Tunica County

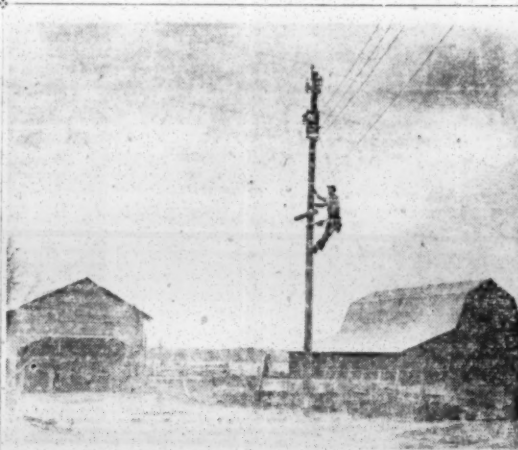

Construction Underway Will Provide Over 100 New Telephones; Cost More Than $70,000

TUNICA — Approximately 100 more rural homes and business houses in a wide area of Tunica County will receive modern rural telephone service upon completion of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, of the Department of Public Construction work of here.

All of these new rural telephones will be connected to the Tunica exchange, according to E. R. Jenkins of Clarksdale, Group Manager for Southern Bell. They will be considered a part of that exchange and the monthly rate paid by any customers having one of these telephones will entitle them to an unlimited number of calls to any other customers connected to the Tunica exchange without additional charges.

Rural residents of more than 50 square miles of the county will be served by the new facilities. This area includes the communities of Little Texas, Clayton, Mand, Dundee, Dubbs and many others.

In January 1946 only 76 rural customers were connected to the Tunica exchange, but construction since then, mostly in the north end of the county, has increased the number of rural customers served from the Tunica exchange to 147. The 105 telephones to be added by the project now under construction in the southern section of the county will bring the total number of rural telephones attached to the exchange at Tunica at approximately 250.

The big job now under way will require about 400 new poles, approximately 900 cross arms and over 700 miles of aerial wire and wire in cables along with much other material. In addition, telephone facilities will be placed on several hundred poles of the Comhoma Electric Power Association on a joint-use rental agreement between the two companies. Total cost of the Tunica project will be approximately $70,000.

It is one of about 100 rural telephone projects which Southern Bell plans to complete in Mississippi this year to provide rural residents of the State with an additional 5,000 telephones. According to officials of the telephone company, additional rural telephone developments in Mississippi this year will cost about 2 1/2 million dollars.

Why Did Jesus Die?

Lesson for March 29, 1953

AS Good Friday approaches we are all made aware—whether we belong to a church or not—that this Friday commemorates the death of Jesus more than 19 centuries ago. It is a fact that no other death in the world's history has been so vividly remembered. Few biographies in the world's libraries give as large a part of their space to the death of their heroes as the Gospels do to the death of Christ. It is plain that the church sees in the death of Christ something quite different from the simple statement that has to go into every man's record: "He died."

It is something much more than an item in the vital statistics of the old Roman Empire. The deeper significance of the Cross comes out when we ask the simple question: Why did Jesus die?

We Were There

"Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" asks the well-known song. The answer is yes, always yes. It is said that when the barbarian fighter Clovis first heard the story of the crucifixion, he rose in anger: "If I and my men had been there, Jesus would not have been killed."

But Clovis was mistaken. "Soldiers were there, not barbarians either; well-disciplined troops, trained to uphold law and order. And the soldiers killed Jesus. Not a sword was raised for him."

There were doubtless hoodlums there, they swarmed to such scenes; but the hoodlums did not kill Jesus. He was killed by order of a high court. The leaders of society, of business, of politics, joined in hounding him to death. The soldiers were carrying out the orders which were given because "everybody" (so Governor Pilate thought) demanded it. The respectable people who read this newspaper had their "opposite numbers" at Calvary.

Jesus died because human beings are the way they are. Jesus died because sinners are uneasy, even angry, in the presence of the good. Jesus died because the world being the kind of world it is, it was bound to crucify the Son of God. Jesus died because of sin, and we must not make the mistake of thinking it would have been different if we had been there.

Jesus died because human beings are the way they are. Jesus died because sinners are uneasy, even angry, in the presence of the good. Jesus died because the world being the kind of world it is, it was bound to crucify the Son of God. Jesus died because of sin, and we must not make the mistake of thinking it would have been different if we had been there.

For Our Sins

Jesus died for our sins. Paul writes to the Corinthians when he is putting the Gospel in a nutshell (1 Cor. 15:3). Partly that means because of our sins, as has just been said. But the word Paul uses (in the Greek in which he always wrote) has the startling meaning of "on behalf of, for the benefit of..."

It is true, the sin of man brought Jesus to the cross. But Jesus' death was not a matter of being beaten by sin. The Christian church has always looked on the cross as a sign of triumph, not defeat. Not our triumph, but God's triumph. Call it a paradox if you like, but God turned apparent defeat into victory.

Good Friday

Why is it that the Christian church calls it "Good" Friday and not "Bad" Friday? It is because the Christian church has experienced something strange: that men and women who have come close to the Cross and understood it in its deeper meaning, men and women who discovered in it the measure of God's love for us, have had their lives transformed. Other religions tell of gods who do not care much what men do. Other religions tell of gods who condemn sin and curse sinners. But only the religion of the New Testament tells about the true and only God, the God whose love is shown in sacrifice.

It is a sad mistake to think that what happened at the Cross was that Jesus mercifully stepped between us and an angry God. That is not the New Testament picture. What happened there was that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." And what that showed, Paul writes (Romans 5:8) is not first of all the merciful heart of Jesus but the loving heart of God. For the heart of Jesus was the heart of God.

Electric Range Retires After 47 Years of Use

OAKLAND, Calif.—A 47-year old General Electric range—one of the first manufactured by the company—has gone into honorable retirement after nearly five decades of constant service for one family.

The 1906 range, with 18 separate plug-in appliances—including an oven—will be put on display at the Major Appliance Division's new Appliance Park in Louisville, Kentucky.

Designated "Model No. 1," the old range bears little resemblance to its modern counterpart. Fundamentally, it is a table with a high backboard on which are mounted switches—some adjustable to three heat levels—and the cord outlets which they control. For cooking, the appliances are set on the table surface and plugged to the current-carrying cords. Each of the appliances has legs similar to those found on chafing dishes.

The range, manufactured by G. E. at Schenectady, sold for $55 new.

Now a collector's item, the range and appliances were turned over to General Electric by the original owner, Mrs. Adolph Strauch, 79-year-old widow of a G. E. engineer. She obtained the range and appliances while she and her husband were living in Seattle in 1907.

The equipment shows little wear from the tens of thousands of meals cooked for the Strauch family over the years. The appliances include three double boilers, two frying pans, an oven, a chafing dish, toaster, tea kettle, griddle, broiler, percolator, and small disk (hot plate).

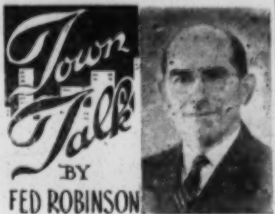

Mrs. Strauch affectionately refers to the range as her "little stove."

The "little stove" has been replaced by a sparkling new, double-oven, push-button model, presented to Mrs. Strauch by Ray W. Turnbull, G. E. commercial vice president for the western area. Coincidentally, Turnbull, as a G. E. heating specialist, worked with Adolph Strauch in pioneer range promotions in the West in the early days of the industry.

The "little stove," says Mrs. Strauch, was first colored brown and had the drab appearance of the old coal and wood stoves. To give it eye-appeal and to emphasize the cleanliness that accompanies electric cooking, her husband gave it four coats of white paint and three coats of enamel; covered the wood top with blue and white linoleum, and nickel-plated the switches. The paint job and original linoleum top have stood up to this day. While it was not until 1920 that all-white ranges came out of the company's factory, Mrs. Strauch and Turnbull credit this early paint job with paying the way.

Mrs. Strauch, describing the novelty of electric cooking in the days when her range was new, tells of the farmer who asked Mr. Strauch, then demonstrating the range at a fair, if he would get a shock from eating an electrically cooked steak.

Not so amusing, however, was the cost of electricity in those days. In 1908, the average monthly bill for range current consumption came to $9.50 or $10. Today's cost, based on typical use, would be about $1.88.

The people of Tennessee should be right proud of their new governor, Frank Clement who is quoted as having said in his inaugural address "I believe ideals are like stars - we will not succeed in touching them with our hands, but, like sea-faring men on the desert of waters, we choose them as our guides and following them, we reach our destiny." That's a very significant statement, and one that will be remembered a long time. Note these words - "We will not succeed in touching them with our hands..." that thought appeals to me because the better things in life are those we are not privileged to touch with our hands, in fact many of them would cease to be fine and noble if we did have them within our reach. There's an interesting story in the Bible about something which God did not want handled by human hands. In Second Samuel 6: we read "And when they came to Nachon's threshing floor, Uzzah put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the ark shook it. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God." There are a great many things we could name along with the stars which are beyond our physical reach, and it is well this is so. The good Lord did not intend that we handle his lightening, even when it is reduced to electricity, and the sun and the moon and the milkyway are untouched and unsoiled by human hands, for hands that grab and hands that tighten around the sordid things of the world are not fit to handle a star and those things that make up the spiritual world. Then there's such things as memories, as love, and gratitude which we feel only with our hearts and are not suited to be handled by the hands with which we grab our gold and possessions. In those little old fashioned trunks in the attics over the country are many letters written by tender love that would crumble if harshly handled by human hands. We dare not touch our most fragrant flowers, neither do we smear our human hands over precious paintings. In the little art stores in New Orleans one sees signs reading: "Do not touch - handle at your own risk" and this is because the objects are precious and priceless and not suited for human hands to handle. What is so precious as music which we cannot touch as the sounds are translated into music after they enter our hearts and souls. Yes, there are many things we will not succeed in touching with our hands, and we are grateful for them.

We were made very happy last week when Mr. Whitaker sent us a paragraph from a letter he received from Miss Beulah Abel, 1264 North President Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

Plummer Named Industrial Development Manager For Mississippi Valley Gas Co.

JACKSON, MISS.—(Special)—Fred E. Plummer has been appointed as Industrial Development Manager for Mississippi Valley Gas Company according to an announcement by Charles M. Brand, general sales manager for Valley Gas.

Mr. Plummer will maintain headquarters in the Jackson general office sales department and come to the local city from Greenville, where he has served as district manager.

In his new position, Mr. Plummer will devote his entire time and efforts toward securing and securing for the area served by Valley Gas, Inc. will work closely with chambers of commerce, trade and civic groups, and local and state agencies seeking new industrial plants and payrolls. His services are available to all such organizations upon request.

The newly organized Industrial Development Department, which Mr. Plummer heads will include a research section to compile up-to-date statistical information on the Valley Gas area's industrial potential, for use in the overall program which seeks to stimulate new economic progress in Mississippi. Material compiled by this section will be made available to national industrial and manufacturing interests in the new factories here or expanding present industrial plants in this area.

A popular and widely-known executive in the field of public utility operations in Mississippi, Mr. Plummer was for 25 years associated with Mississippi Power & Light Company before that firm sold its gas system to Valley Gas last year. Since transferring to the new company, Mr. Plummer has served as Valley Gas District Manager at Greenville.

Active Civic Worker
One of Mississippi's most active civic workers, Plummer has played an important role in affairs of the these areas according to Martha Berntsen. "My newborn baby" from his arms, and toddles off to school. A tall youth saunters home with her. Their child brings the mother and son.

Editorials

The editor, as usual, has plenty of thoughts; in fact, many such thoughts already written out. As a matter of fact, however, we just ain't got any room to put these thoughts; so, for another week, the reader will just have to struggle on without editorial guidance.

Believe Ellett Lawrence takes it easier at home than anyone I know. In his large living room, he has a favorite corner and an easy chair just beside his radio. Having gone modern, he now has a television set in the opposite corner but does he get up and walk away from his favorite chair. Oh, no, not Ellett. He has some remote-control contraption right by his easy chair with which he tunes the television set. Now lady can a man get it!

Mabel and I had a fine lunch up with Lillian and Elizabeth, the former Coffee House girls, up at Barwin Coffee Shop, Monday.

A man CAN quit drinking. Roker, Race Pressgrove HAS quit, for about 3 years. His friends continue to "pull" for him, that he will not start again.

It looks like William Winter has taken a lot of the "free jobs" away from Billy Sommes. Each of them, fortunately, has several paying jobs.

We are getting about as any Turn-we have the initials mixed up with Grenada County Wildlife League met at the City Hall Friday night, March 29. There was around 100 present at this meeting, consisting of members and non-members. All seemed to have enjoyed being at the meeting. Mr. Knight was the principal speaker, he is with the U. S. Engineers and will have complete charge of all sites on the Reservoir, after completion of the dam. He gave an interesting talk on available sites. Pictures were also shown by Mr. Knight on safety by the U. S. Engineers. Various subjects were brought up and discussed, including the building of MATES and placing them in proper places in the permanent pool, and as I understand this right, these mates can and will be built and by the State Game and Fish Commission. This is a very important project, as well as several others, such as ponds for ducks and geese and planting food for these birds for a public shooting ground. These projects should be taken up by the League with the State G. & F. Comm., just as soon as possible and begin work on these projects this summer if possible, before water is impounded in this reservoir.

Refreshments were served at this meeting.

Mr. J. H. Biddy was elected President for 1935 and Mr. Frank Evans was elected Vice President. Both of these men are capable men and can and will do the work but they can't do it by themselves. They must have the cooperation of all 400 members as well as all business houses and all other clubs and organizations of Grenada. Mr. Knight stressed on this subject in his talk, the more power you have the better chance we are going to have in all our undertakings on the Grenada Dam.

Mr. Businessman, Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Boy Scouts, Girls reserve, and all others. Mr. Gen. Public of Grenada and Grenada County, get behind this and help make it a success from the beginning. Join the Grenada County Wildlife League!

Fishermen have been going every-

Methodist Church

The chancel choir of the Methodist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Granberry, will present "The Crucifixion," a meditation on the Sacred Passion of the Lord Jesus by John Stainer, Friday evening, April 3 at 7:30.
There is one soprano solo, "King Ever Glorious" sung by Mrs. Walter Garner. The tenor soloists are: Felix Sutphin, Bill Morris, and James Bull. The bass solos are sung by David Dubard, Walter Hill Peltz, Frank Quackenbush and William Lomax.

Mrs. William Lomax, organist for the church will accompany the choir.

The mood of this meditation is very clear in showing the spirit of Jesus at the crucifixion and the dark ugliness of the awful deed which men did to him.

MACHINE SHOP BURNS
AT AIR BASE

A fire, believed to have been started by lightning, burned a building behind J. W. White's maintenance shop on Air Base property Sunday night.

The Fire Dept. answered the call at 7:50 p. m. and fought the fire, keeping it from spreading but didn't save the building as they weren't called in time.

Several valuable pieces of equipment, including a bulldozer and some machines, were destroyed.

FARMING is our
too!

It's our job to help make farm work easier and better paying. That means doing a lot more than just selling tractors and implements; it means that we must make farming our business, too.

That's why we like to spend as much of our time as we can out visiting our farmer friends.
That's how we learn why and how one farm is different from another... and see how the many different problems can be licked.

If we haven't been around to see you lately, we're hoping to do it soon. We'd like to get better acquainted... both with you and your farm.
The better we know you, the better we'll be able to serve you.

Meanwhile, next time you're in town, drop in and see us. Lots of folks do. You'll be welcome.

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY FOR MRS. PENN

Mrs. Jones Allison complimented her mother, Mrs. Cecil Penn at a most attractive party at the Monte Cristo Tuesday afternoon at 4. Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Penn received the guests at the entrance to the private dining room.

Mrs. Penn was handsomely attired in an original Juddard suit of white wool, featuring a shoulder cape embroidered with white pearl and rhinestone medallions. Her hat was of petal pink straw with veil dotted by rhinestone. Her gloves were white kid.

The guests were seated at quartet tables centered by small bouquets of pastel flowers arranged in antique vases of china or silver. The honoree's table held a low arrangement of pink carnations, double pink hyacinths and plumose ferns.

A refreshment course of ice cream with mint sauce, sandwiches and coffee was served.

Mrs. Allison's guest list included eighty friends of the honoree.

Chas. J. Moss of Los Angeles, Calif. has been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. H. Neely, Sr. the past week. He will leave tomorrow (Friday) accompanied by Mrs. Neely who will visit in his home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. L. Marders left Grenada Tuesday to visit her son, Parrish Taylor and family in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Horton, Jr. and 2 children of McGehee, Ark. spent the past weekend here with their parents.

Mrs. Rogers Burt and Mrs. S. L. Murphy attended a party in Charleston Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Murray are spending several days in Memphis this week.

JACKSON-SANITORIUM VISIT
Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Avent took their little grandson, Ivan Bass to Jackson Sunday, where they were met by Mr. Ray Bass who took his little son Ivan, home with him for a visit.

Dr. and Mrs. Avent then went on to Sanatorium to visit Dr. Hal Rogers who is a patient there. They reported Dr. Rogers as doing well and very cheerful and as most interested in the cards and letters he receives, and that he files them along with pictures of pretty girls on the wall by his bed.

On Wednesday of last week the families of C. E. and H. H. Heath were agreeably surprised with a visit of their two cousins, Miss May Sykes, and her sister, Mrs. Hugh Lewis of Muskogee, Okla. enroute back home from a tour of the Natchez and Bellegard Pilgrimage.

During their three day visit, their aunt, Mrs. T. E. Heath dropped down from Memphis. Mrs. Heath returned to Memphis Friday with Miss Sykes and Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. J. H. Caldwell of Charleston, Miss. is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Donald Sharp this week.

VISITOR PETED HERE

Mrs. Clyde Horn, guest here of her mother, Mrs. W. O. Geeslin and sister, Mrs. E. C. Hayward, also of Mrs. Darrow Horn, Sr. for the month of April, has been the inspiration for numerous small parties.

Earlier this month she was the honoree at dances parties given by several friends, Mrs. W. W. Robinson, Mrs. J. B. Dubois, Mrs. P. H. Youngblood, and Mrs. George Murray. A coffee hour at the apartment home of Mrs. W. H. Saunders.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Morris Hubbard included a group of friends as guests, honoring Mrs. Horn.

Mrs. Fred Griffin entertained Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Horn at the Monte Cristo, and Friday evening Mrs. H. D. Lane and Mrs. George Williams honored her at a canasta party at the Lane home.

Mrs. Irvin Johnson and Claudia and Mrs. Claudie Perry have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Rufus Perry in Crestview, Fla.

Mr. H. B. Abernethy of Houston, Miss. visited his daughter, Mrs. R. Semmes, Jr. and family last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford who were married last Wednesday, have returned from their honeymoon at Panama City, Fla.

Mrs. Johnnie Leigh returned Sunday from a weeks stay in the hospital in Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McMahon of Holcomb are visiting their daughter Mrs. Frank Camp and Mr. Camp in San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Doak and Miss Robbie Doak attended the pageant at Natchez recently, and Mrs. Doak as State Chairman of DAR hostesses at Rosalie, presided there for several days.

Mrs. B. C. Duncan visited her daughter, Mrs. Will McBride in Greenwood last week.

CELEBRATES 33RD BIRTHDAY

Mr. ob Avant celebrated his 33rd birthday on Saturday, March 21 at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. W. Little.

Out of town relatives, who came for this celebration, and to spend the weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Clemmons, Mrs. Kathryn Wright and two daughters of Indianola, Miss.

In the Twentieth Century Club write up last week we omitted the name of Mrs. Edgar Underwood who was a guest of her sister, Mrs. H. J. Ray, Sr. and of Mrs. Cowles Horton, the two club hostesses.

Mrs. Brooks Vance and two little sons of Batesville, Miss. were weekend guests of their mother, Mrs. A. J. McCaslin.

1 OF 10 BEST DRESSED
Lewiston Idaho's ten best dressed women, determined by ballots cast by fashion and feminine fable merchants, were introduced and complimented at the 10th Annual Spring Style Show. Included in this group was Miss Betty Gresham, formerly of Grenada. Betty is secretary to a Judge Hyde, and was selected along with a group of wealthy society women of Lewiston.

Congratulations Betty.

Mrs. DeVosville and children of Egypt, Miss. were weekend guests of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Wilkins.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Liles and two children of Jackson took advantage of school holidays in the state and visited here Thursday afternoon thru Saturday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Caruthers. Their many friends were delighted to see them.

Mrs. Burnell Walker, and niece, Andrea Whitaker returned from Alexandria, Va. Sunday night, after a three weeks stay in the home of their sister and aunt, Mrs. George Hartnell, who has been so critically ill the past 2 months. At this writing, Mrs. Hartnell is improved.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE
The spacious living room in the home of Mrs. H. J. Ray, Sr. on Margin Street was gaily decorated with gift bouquets from Mrs. Grover Long, local florist, who with several other members, was co-hostess at the March meeting of Grenada Improvement League last Wednesday. Flowers used were gladioli, carnations and daffodils. Cohostesses with Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Long were Mesdames E. L. Betz, E. H. White, A. D. Collins, T. P. Fulliam, Wm Ames and W. R. Todd.

Mrs. Ray, president, presided and business was attended to, including reports on planting shrubs in corners of City Square and at the several points Mrs. R. L. Bena acted as secretary.

During the social hour a contest, "Trimming and Modeling Easter Hats" was enjoyed. Mrs. Betz made all preparations for this contest by covering small paper plates with foil, and after distributing these placed a large assortment of colorful flowers, ribbons, veils, feather and trills for trimmings.

At the right moment two judges, Mrs. R. Semmes, Sr. and Mrs. Tom Greer, came to award prizes to Mrs. E. R. Henderson, Mrs. T. T. Yeager and Mrs. E. R. Prouditt.

Extra guests were Mrs. Cecil Penn and Mrs. Mabel James. The hostesses served sandwiches, cookies and coca colas.

WAYNE BLACK READS GREEK IN CONTEST

Wayne Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

Progress For Grenada County During 1952

Progress of the Grenada County Soil Conservation District, which has been in operation the past six years, is reflected in the annual report of the Commissioners.

During the calendar year 1952, 53 new cooperators were added to the District, making a total of 371 farms, covering 94,540 acres on which soil and water conservation plans have been prepared.

The trend in the county is toward livestock & grass. Forty-seven farm ponds were constructed by cooperators during the year, making a total of 467 ponds, completed since 1946. Over 1200 acres of permanent pasture were established on cooperator's farms.

Other accomplishments were 2120 acres of contour farming, cover crops 929 acres, woodland management 2717 acres, tree planting 37 acres, 4 miles of terraces, 3 miles of diversions, 14 miles of open drains, draining 1620 acres, crop rotation, 2541 acres; 21 acres water disposal areas; 9 acres Kudzu, 47 acres Sericea, 147 acres perennial grasses, 3163 acres woodland protection, and 9 fish ponds. Many vegetative practices were hampered as a result of the long drought last summer.

A supplement memorandum of understanding was signed with the U. S. Forest Service which will make more service and materials available to farmers desiring to carry out forestry practices.

The various local, state and Federal agencies, civic clubs, and the 2 local newspapers, the Grenada County Weekly, and the Daily Sentinel Star, have assisted in promoting Soil Conservation work in the District.

Soil Conservation Service personnel working with District Board of Commissioners, which is the governing body of the Grenada District, is composed of L. J. Doak, chairman, J. W. Martin, secretary and treasurer; D. K. Hayden, Holcomb; J. G. Shaw, Gore Springs; and W. H. Clark, Big Creek.

Any farmer may become a cooperator of the District and receive assistance by signing a cooperative agreement with the District.

The District program is a cooperative program by local farmers in an effort to conserve soil and water, promote better land use and a more permanent type of agriculture, which in turn, will lead to a better standard of living and a stronger nation.

-SOIL CONSERVATION- (By Rex R. Blue, SCS)

"Conservation Land Use Emphasis Week" will be observed throughout Mississippi April 8-12. During the week proper land use will be stressed in an effort to encourage landowners to use their land according to its capability.

Past history has shown that misuse of land has been one of the main causes of erosion. Steep slopes, best suited for production of timber, have been planted to clean tilled crops. Often sandy, droughty slopes have been used for pastures. Deep rooted crops, such as cotton, have been planted on shallow pan soils. Land capability is based upon soil type, slope, and degree of erosion. Some land is capable of doing a heavier job than other land. When put to its proper use, and given the right treatment, land may be used indefinitely without damage. Unless a land owner is willing to carefully consider the capability of each acre of land on his farm and use it within its capability class, he can not carry out a very effective soil and water conservation program and is apt to have serious erosion problems.

Trained Soil Conservation Service personnel are assisting cooperators of the Grenada County Soil Conservation District in the preparation of land capability maps for their farms. These maps show the soil type, slope, and degree of erosion and are used as a basis for planning complete soil and water conservation programs for the farms.

-COUNTY AGENTS NOTES- (By C. O. Sennett)

COTTON: A small cotton crop may be more profitable than a large one in 1953. Plant cotton only on land best suited to cotton. Fertilize it highly and carry out a complete program, including insect control.

Plant that land taken out of cotton to grain, hay, silage and pastures - all these are badly needed in Mississippi.

Don't wait until you need insecticides before you buy them. If you do, you may find that before you can get the poisons on hand and ready for use, the insects will have seriously damaged your crop. Buy at least part of your cotton poisons now and have them on hand when needed.

Do you know all of the common cotton insects by sight? If not, now would be a good time to find out what they look like. Ask for a copy of Extension Publication 246, "1953 Cotton Insect Controls." There are pictures of most of the major cotton insects on pages 8 and 9.

POULTRY: For high egg profits next fall, now is the time to get your replacement pullets. Make sure that you buy production bred chicks. And buy them from a hatchery close to home that meets the U. S. Pul-lory Passed or Clean requirements of the Mississippi Poultry Improvement Association.

A good pasture for your pullets will save about 50 cents per bird in feed costs. Ladino, White Dutch clover, lespedeza, ryegrass, Bermuda, carpet grass and oats all make good grazing for pullets.

Check with your county agent and make plans now to have a clean range with plenty of grazing available for your replacements when they reach eight weeks of age.

FISH PONDS: A properly managed, well fertilized farm fish pond will grow 300 to 600 pounds of fish per year for each surface acre of water.

This will not only make for better diets among farm people through the use of more high protein fish, but will furnish plenty of recreation for the farmer and his city friends.

Three musts for a good fish pond are: 1. Stock it properly with bream and bass. 2. Use plenty of fertilizer. 3. Fish it a-plenty.

Use only blue gill bream and bass in your pond. For each surface acre of water use 1000 bream and 100 bass. Put the bream in the pond in the late fall and the bass in the spring.

Begin fertilizing in the spring about the time the trees begin to leaf out. Use 100 pounds of 8-8-4 for each surface acre of water per week until the pond has enough fertilizer. To tell when your pond has enough fertilizer, stick your arm into the water about 12 inches deep. If you cannot see your fingers, the pond has enough fertilizer.

After stocking and fertilizing, you should begin to catch pan fish after the fish have spawned one time. Catch all you can on hook and line.

EASTER SEALS BEING DISTRIBUTED THIS WEEK

Local Trustees For Funds Are Listed

Easter seals are being distributed throughout Grenada County this week as a part of the annual campaign for aid to the crippled people of our state and community it was announced by William Winter and Mrs. Mike McClamroch, co-chairmen of the local Easter Seal committee.

One-half of the funds in this county will be retained in the county for local disbursement and use. These local funds are handled by the county board of trustees, of which J. B. Keeton is chairman. Other members of the board are: D. K. Hayden of Holcomb, vice chairman; Mrs. Benton Keeton, secretary; J. C. Hathorn, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Bingharn, Miss Lucille Cook, O. D. Spratlin, Al Gully, Guy Branscome, Mrs. McClamroch and Mr. Winter.

Among the many necessary services which the Easter Seal dollars will provide are wheelchairs, braces, special beds, artificial limbs and crutches for the use of crippled people; camping, recreational and special educational services for children; medical and hospital care; aid to total and hopeless cripples; loan closet for the temporarily crippled; special services for the cerebral palsied; market outlets for articles made by homebound crippled adults, speech and hearing clinics; and other needs for which no other public care is available.

Those in charge of the local campaign state that every effort will be made to distribute Easter Seals to every home in the county. They urge a generous response from the people of this community. In charge of the distribution of seals in the city are the members of the Newcomers Club under the direction of Mrs. Morris Hubbard.

It was pointed out by Mr. Winter that Grenada Countians should have a special interest in the program inasmuch as one of those who was instrumental in initiating the original Crippled Children's work in this state was Senator John Rundle of Grenada.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

The Sunflower Toscin reminds us that this is the time of year when man's thoughts idly turn to thoughts of worms, fish hooks, casting rods, fly rods, popping bugs and boat paddles. Same over here, Brother Chapman.

I know two mighty pretty gals named Connie who recently married: a gal named Connie from Tipton County, Tennessee who married Ellett Lawrence II and the gal named Connie who worked for Dyre-Kent who married a dude from Ohio.

Bob Townes who used to hate the idea of monkeying around cows now goes out to Mt. Lore sometimes twice a day to see how many more he has.

Mesdames Kate Woodward and Van Williams both wrote in about not getting the "pled" issue and we are sorry the supply of the pled is.

sue are "fresh out." Neither of you missed anything anyhow. The issue was just messed up anyway.

Dorothy in a routine manner sent Mrs. Zac Taylor a statement for three dollars. Since we sell a year of the GCW to the widows of old Confederate veterans for a dollar, we took the dollar and gave her a receipt. That's about as little as we can do to honor the brave old Rebs. Most country papers just charge widows of the old Rebs just like they do everyone else, but not the GCW.

Most subscribers pay in advance, but not one of our old "hands", Frank Travis who pays AFTER. This he did the other day, tho at no reduced price. We don't have any special price for "old hands" like we do for widows of Confederate veterans.

Louie Friedman had been reading in the GCW about how sweet those gals at the hospital are. He got sick Friday and went to the hospital to see for himself. Keene Huffington says the reason Louie stayed only one day was that, he THOUGHT the room he occupied cost $12 a week but, when he found out it cost $12 a day, he got well quick.

Remember that fellow Dow from Brockton, Mass. who came over here with Ellett Lawrence to see me and the force and the GCW. We have been "baiting" him with copies of the GCW and hooked him Sunday. Thus the GCW "Grows".

The more you monkey with water, the worse it gets. Sunday morning following the heavy rain, water was belly deep in the low sections of College and Poplar Streets. This is in spite of the $400,000 spent to "correct" the situation. Keep on monkeying with water here in Grenada, we will have water under the court house!!

Don't blame Juchheim for giving the fire alarm each afternoon at 6. Somebody told Juchheim to do that. Remember 'the boy who cried "Wolf! Wolf!"' so often that, when the wolves did come to get after the sheep, nobody paid any attention.

During his stay here, every now and then we baited Preacher Landrum with a sample copy. We hooked him aady.

C. M. Stricklin got back from a trip down "home" to Foster Hospital last week, reporting a grand time.

I understand they are going to blow the fire alarm every afternoon at six o'clock thru May, to call folks to prayer. By the end of May, therefore, it will be necessary for the Sheriff to arrest anyone and make that one go to fight fire, or, perhaps, install a more terrible-sounding alarm. Personally I don't think it is one of the legitimate functions of the Fire Department to call folks to prayer.

I personally met the new banker at Grenada Bank, Mr. Moore. Frankly, the picture which we had in the GCW did not do the subject justice. He is a better-looking man than our picture disclosed.

The two most recent entries in the cash book are subscription payments of postmaster Donald Sharp and Brother Carl Hall.

Our next entry shows that Partner Warner Horton has changed his address from Silva Rena, Coahoma County, to Route 1, Lyons, Miss. All of us miss Warner Horton and "Miss" Lula.

Old Louise Avent said she and the good doctor had stopped by Sanatorium to check up on Dr. Hal Rogers, who is getting on fine yet faces the prospect of being there possibly a year. It requires time and lots of it to alleviate what ails Dr. Rogers. Drop him a card or letter addressed to Sanatorium.

Speaking of Avents, we had a postal card from North Africa recently from Little Louise and her new husband.

The price of a fevery prescription compounded by us is determined by the cost of the ingredients plus a nominal fee for professional services. This is the only fair and square method for figuring the cost of any prescription. It assures you that no corners are cut in order to cut a price, and it also acts as a brake on unnecessarily high prices. A shot in the arm...

Mississippi's oil and gas industry is injecting more than 50 MILLION NEW DOLLARS each year into the state's economic bloodstream. This "shot in the arm" is a booster which helps keep the state's economy healthy and growing.

This vital industry was on hand when Mississippi's new prosperity was born in the early nineteen forties and its activities have been a great influence on the growing child... ONE BILLION DOLLARS have been invested to date in Mississippi by the oil and gas industry.

The considerable part that the oil and gas industry has played in expanding Mississippi's economy has been made possible by the faith of the industry's individual members in Mississippi's future and by their willingness to risk their capital in the face of the many difficulties encountered in seeking production here. The pioneer spirit that built America is far from dead in the ranks of Mississippi's oil and gas industry.

Also in the American tradition of pioneer days has been the degree of mutual understanding and cooperation which the oil and gas industry has enjoyed with Mississippians and their state and local governments. This attitude of fairness has stimulated the industry's activity, increasing its capacity to contribute to the expansion of the state's economy.

We of Mississippi's oil and gas industry recognize the value of this enlightened attitude, for it is not in every section of America that business and industry are treated fairly. We hope for the continuation of this healthy, mutually beneficial relationship... so that the development of Mississippi's petroleum and natural gas resources can go forward unimpeded, bringing even greater prosperity to the state and its citizens.

CLOVER LEAF FERTILIZER

USE DOLEMITE AS A BASE INSTEAD OF SAND AS A NEUTRALIZATION AGENT.

TO ALL COOPERATIVE MANAGERS AND DIRECTORS, COUNTY AGENTS AND VOCATIONAL TEACHERS

Dear Sir:

In going through the publications of the Mississippi Experiment Station we have made an amazing discovery which if properly recognized may mean millions of dollars to the cotton farmers of Mississippi this year. We were so impressed by the significance of the findings of the Experiment Station that we questioned our own figures and made a trip to State College where Dr. C. Dale Hoover confirmed our calculations.

What we discovered was the result of a 3, 4, and 5-year study which shows that based on today's market a ton of neutral mixed fertilizer (lime base) is worth $49.50 per ton of acid-forming fertilizer in the production of cotton on sandy textured soils. Since the Experiment Station reports that approximately 75% of all cultivatable land in the hill section of Mississippi is of a sandy texture this means that millions of dollars can be added to the cotton farmer's income merely by using a good neutral fertilizer such as Clover Brand which is manufactured by Mississippi Federated Cooperatives. The following is quoted from the research report prepared by J. L. Anthony and John Pitner, soil research specialists, and by the late Dr. Clarence Dorman, director of the Experiment Station:

"The average response to neutral fertilizers on soils of a sandy texture was an increased yield of 90 pounds of seed cotton per acre in the 5-year experiment."

"On the basis of these results one ton of neutralized fertilizer applied on five acres of sandy textured soils would produce an increase over acid fertilizer of 450 pounds of seed cotton."

Based on the cotton market today seed cotton is worth at least 11c per pound. The extra 450 pounds of seed cotton which Clover Brand lime based neutral fertilizers will produce as compared to an acid forming fertilizer is worth $49.50.

All of the mixed fertilizers listed on the price lists of Mississippi Federated Cooperatives except 8-8-8 are neutral or non-acid-forming fertilizers. This is made possible by using as a filler only pure dolomite which not only neutralizes the fertilizer but provides needed magnesium and calcium.

Yours very truly,

A. E. BEALL, Organization Director,

TRIP TO BATON ROUGE

(Don't from front page)
plaining the extra tax.
A great change could be noted in our delta country. A few years ago, when every acre was devoted to cotton, all land to be seen would be "bedded up" this time of the year.
Today, however, not over half the land is devoted to row crops. Much land is in pasture lands and in forrage crops, small grain, winter grass, etc. Folks over there are abandoning the old policy of killing grass and have begun to cultivate grass and use it.

In Louisiana, the state licenses licker sellers and admits the sale of licker is legal. In Mississippi the state says the sale of licker is illegal, but charges ten percent sales tax on licker. Louisiana collects regular licenses for the sale of licker and gets a heap of money from that source.
Occasionally, the State of Mississippi catches and convicts some licker seller and gets a small amount in fines, licker is handled open and aboveboard. Almost as much is handled in Mississippi, but in a sort of back-handed subrosa fashion.

As stated elsewhere, the country from Baton Rouge to Hammond and on up as far as Crystal Springs was right sorry looking, but from Crystal Springs on up thru Jackson, Canton, Durant, Pickens and Winona to Grenada, the country looked good.

Like a mule headed to the barn

cept a sturdy little Plymouth from

KI WANIS VOTE $200 FOR MINSTREL QUEEN PRIZE

At the recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club Board of Directors $200 was allowed from the Kiwanis General fund to be used as a prize in the "Kiwanis Minstrel Queen" contest to be featured in the Annual Kiwanis Minstrel March 26 and 27.

according to Harold Biddy, General
Chairman of the Kiwanis Minstrel Committee and director of the contest.

The $200.00 will be awarded to the service club sponsoring the winning contestant.

The minstrel is tonight and Friday night at Grenada High School beginning at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Gilliam and daughter, Ann Walton, spent the weekend here with their mother, Mrs. W. R. Todd.
